Known for his meticulous skills, Dr. Keith Appelbaum is passionate about saving teeth, which is his focus as an endodontist. Whether diagnosing oral pain or performing root canals or root-end surgery, Dr. Appelbaum applies cutting-edge technology. He treats patients with the aid of a surgical microscope to ensure the best outcomes and uses 3-D imaging to diagnose difficult cases. Associate Dr. Irina Zagorodny joined this growing practice last fall. “We spend time educating our patients about their treatment options,” Dr. Appelbaum says. “We want to reassure them that we have their best interest at heart.”

A desire to improve people’s lives drove Dr. Appelbaum to a career in dentistry, following eight years of work as a civil engineer. His attention to detail and dedication to his patients has proven to be the right formula for establishing a practice brimming with expertise, commitment and compassion.
